

Casual Secretarial or Clerical Positions

The University of Northern British Columbia is a dynamic and progressive institution with an innovative approach to education and is supported by advanced technologies. If you possess top-notch clerical and administrative secretarial skills and want to be a part of an exciting team, we may have an opportunity for you.

As part of our casual pool of employees available on an on-call basis offering clerical and administrative support to a variety of departments, you may be called in to assist during peak periods, vacation or sick leave coverage, as well as exciting project work. Your knowledge of computer applications, typing, filing, reception duties, data entry, scheduling meetings and a variety of other skills will be well utilized.

Qualifications:

Candidates must have at least five years of progressive secretarial experience in a computerized environment combined with coursework or a certificate in office administration. You have extensive knowledge of Microsoft Word and are comfortable working in a Windows environment. A minimum of 50 wpm typing is required. Exposure to spreadsheets and database applications would be considered an asset. Rounding out your skills profile are: exceptional organizational skills, strong communication and interpersonal skills and a proven ability to work within deadlines. A high degree of flexibility is required to be available for assignments.

Normal hours of work will be 8:30 am – 4:30 pm Monday through Friday.

Please forward your resume, proof of education and the contact information for three references to: Human Resources, University of Northern British Columbia, 3333 University Way, Prince George, BC, V2N 4Z9. Phone: (250) 960-5521. Fax: (250) 960-5695. Email submissions: HRecruit@unbc.ca
