University of Northern British Columbia
Director, Athletics & Recreation
(Regular, Full-time)

Located in the spectacular landscape of Northern British Columbia, the University of Northern British Columbia (UNBC) is Canada's Green University™; it is Canada's premier, small, research-intensive university, with internationally recognized academic and research programs that prepare graduates in select areas of relevance to its region, the province and beyond. The University has garnered significant recognition for its success, including being ranked second in the annual Maclean's Magazine survey, recognized for innovative teaching (such as our Foundation Program and a pilot project in Block Teaching), a Sustainable University Award, as well as for being one of Canada's Top Green Employers.

UNBC has regional campuses in Fort St. John, Terrace, Prince Rupert, and Quesnel, and the University interacts with many communities including First Nations and Métis communities.

With a student population of 4300, the University is friendly, inclusive, and supportive. We are looking for someone with a passion for athletics and recreation to join us. Prince George is a city of 80,000 people with impressive cultural, educational, and recreational amenities. For more information about living and working in Prince George please consult www.unbc.ca/northernbc/.

This is an exciting opportunity to live in a community with spectacular outdoor recreational opportunities and a vibrant, dynamic culture, and to make a mark on a leading post-secondary institution that is still growing and developing its great potential.

The Director of Athletics and Recreation Provides administrative leadership and direction for the coaches, staff, student athletes, and in the programs at all levels of sport including intramural, recreational, Canada West, and Canadian InterUniversity Sport.

The successful candidate will have:

- A Masters degree in a related field
- Extensive and related administrative experience in sport and recreation administration preferably in a University or College setting, minimum 5 years
- Detailed knowledge of requirements set by Canadian InterUniversity Sport (CIS) and Canada West
- Demonstrated commitment to all facets of student-athlete welfare including academic success
- Demonstrated personal and professional integrity

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience.

A detailed job description is available at Human Resources or on the Human Resources website <http://www.unbc.ca/executive-postings> .

Please forward your curriculum vitae & cover letter to: Human Resources, University of Northern British Columbia, 3333 University Way, Prince George, BC, V2N 4Z9. Email submissions: HRecruit@unbc.ca. Inquiries: 250-960-5521.

We thank all applicants for their interest in UNBC. However, only those applicants selected for further consideration will be contacted.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. The University of Northern British Columbia is committed to employment equity and encourages applications from women, aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities and members of visible minorities.

Review of applications will begin March 28, 2013
