African Nurses and Everyday Work in Twentieth-Century Zimbabwe

Dr. Clement Maskakure
Assistant Professor and Academic Head
Department of History
University of the Free State, South Africa

Based on the book of the same title, my presentation will examine the daily experiences of women and men who worked as nurses in Zimbabwe's hospitals for close to a century. I will demonstrate how Africans transformed colonial spaces into their own and through their work, contributed to the development of the nation by being at the bedside, healing the sick and nursing the infirm.
