

ACADEMIC ABLEISM AND ITS ALTERNATIVES

November 22, 2024

In this workshop, we will collaborate to address the ableist attitudes, policies, and practices that are built into higher education. We will also interrogate the minimal and temporary means we have been given to address inequities, and the cost such an approach has for disabled students and faculty. We will then work together to share and develop strategies and tools for a much more accessible classroom and campus.

When: Friday, November 22 from 12pm to 1:30pm
Where: In person room 7-152

Presented by:

Global Friday

UNBC UNIVERSITY OF
NORTHERN BRITISH COLUMBIA
Faculty of Indigenous Studies, Social Sciences and Humanities

Dr. Jay Dolmage, Ph.D

Professor of English

Chair, Department of English

University of Waterloo

Editor, Canadian Journal of Disability Studies

