ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION MARK

This will involve an in-class interactive weekly quiz at end of each chapter lesson. Students are expected to be physically present to earn participation mark. Marks obtained from these activities will account for the participation mark. If unable to attend due to illness, please provide a doctor's note as evidence of sickness.

PAPER FORMAT

- Adherence to all academic standards and forms is expected. Of particular note are the use of the third person in all assignments; the proper citation of sources; inclusion of bibliographies; and the use of proper spelling and grammar.
- All submissions are to use 12-point font, double-spaced.
- Page numbers are required – their use greatly assists in quickly determining missing pages.

CONDUCT IN EXAMINATIONS

Students must present appropriate identification upon entering the examination room. Appropriate identification is defined as a UNBC student card and/or some other form of photo identification acceptable to the proctor. The following regulations (Regulation 40 Undergrad Calendar) apply to the conduct of examinations:

- a. Books, papers, or other materials or devices must not be in the possession of the student during an exam except by the express permission of the examiner. No laptop computers, no cell phones, handheld electronic devices or the like may be in possession of the student in the examination room.
- b. No candidate is permitted to enter the examination room more than 30 minutes after the beginning of the examination, or permitted to leave within 30 minutes after the examination has started.
- c. Candidates must not communicate in any way with other candidates in the examination room.
- d. Candidates must not leave their seats, except when granted permission by the proctor.
- e. Candidates must turn in all materials, including rough work, upon leaving the examination room.
- f. Food and beverages other than water are not permitted in the examination room.

MISSING A MIDTERM OR EXAM

Advance notice must be given when a student is unable to appear for an examination. Only duly authenticated bereavement, illness and legitimate reasons are admissible justifications for absence from a scheduled examination (e.g. Writing an LSAT or CPA exam and there is a time conflict).

PLEASE DO NOT SCHEDULE TRAVELS DURING THE SEMESTER THAT MAY CONFLICT WITH YOUR QUIZZES, ASSIGNMENTS, MID-TERM OR FINAL EXAMS!

IF YOU HAVE MISSED A FINAL EXAMINATION

Satisfactory explanation, with supporting documentation as appropriate, for any final examination missed must be made by the student or designate to the Office of the Registrar within 48 hours from the time the examination was written.

Within 48 hours of receiving a submission, the Registrar or designate may direct the Program under which the course is offered to arrange the writing of a special examination in the case of an examination which was missed.

Normally, for explanations of sickness, a doctor's certification is required. (Regulation 43. Undergraduate Calendar)

PLAGIARISM AND ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

It is the student's responsibility to be aware of UNBC's Academic regulations, policies and procedures as described in Section 45 of the Undergraduate Academic Calendar. Please refer to the UNBC website. <http://www.unbc.ca/calendar/undergraduate/regulations>

A definition of academic misconduct includes:

Cheating (using unauthorized material, information, or study aids in academic exercise), plagiarism, falsification of records, unauthorized possession of examinations, intimidation and any and all other actions that may improperly affect the evaluation of a student's academic performance or achievement, assisting others in any act, submission of the same work for grades in two courses without permission of the instructor or attempts to engage in such acts.

The regulations on plagiarism apply to all material submitted for a grade: essays, exams, assignments, cases, presentations, quizzes, and practice sets. Any case of suspected academic misconduct will be reported to the campus registrar. If the student is found guilty of academic misconduct there are both grade penalties and disciplinary penalties. Before there is any intention (on your part) or suspicion (on the part of your instructor or your peers) of wrongdoing, please see the instructor to discuss any problems of this nature. If your paper closely resembles a paper from this class or any other class (either written by you or another student, in this semester or any other), this will be considered an infraction of the academic misconduct code.

Respect

Please demonstrate respect to your fellow students who express their thoughts and explore new ideas in the course.

Ethical Standards

The following behaviors are considered unethical:

- Telling the instructor that you "need" a certain grade
- Asking for extra assignments for the purpose of raising a grade
- Asking that the grade be raised because it is very close to the next higher grade
- Asking that the grade be raised because you did very well on one part of the course or grading scheme
- Asking for a higher grade because you don't like the grading scheme
- Asking to be allowed to turn in an assignment late - even a few minutes late - because of computer or printer problems or any other reason
- Asking to be treated better than other students by making an exception to the rules
- Asking for any other unfair advantage in grading.

MISSED Quizzes/Midterms

If you have missed an assignment, a quiz or midterm, the student should contact the instructor immediately.

FINAL Exams

In addition to the above comments on examinations, please see the calendar regarding details on UNBC expectations. Please refer to Section 39 of the Undergraduate Academic Calendar.

Math Academic Centre for Excellence (MACE)

The Mathematical Academic Centre for Excellence (MACE) is a student-centred space dedicated to students taking math-based courses. MACE is a space for working on problems alone or in groups or for getting help from tutors, teaching assistants, and faculty who are available at scheduled times. MACE tutors can be identified by their green ties embroidered with the MACE frog.

Students go to MACE to do practice problems, work in study groups, do math problems related to science and business courses, receive help, and discuss math concepts. MACE is located in room 10-2088 in the Teaching and Learning building.
