

Continuing Studies

Employers know that investing in employee education and training is good for business. That is why UNBC Continuing Studies is committed to providing your business or organization with relevant learning opportunities, instructed by industry experts, which can be tailored to your specific needs.

Our specialized courses and certificate programs in subjects such as Natural Resources, Leadership, Business Administration, and Career and Project Management can be customized to your group's training requirements and delivered throughout British Columbia for desired access. We can also provide easy-to-use, immediately accessible online programming, designed to reflect your company's brand and training specifications, helping you:

- Upgrade employee skills
- Develop employee qualifications
- Enhance personal and professional growth
- Satisfy accreditation requirements and achieve workplace regulation compliance
- Maintain professional standing

Your Natural Choice for Fitness and Recreation, Meetings, and Professional Development

Let the UNBC Business Services team of the Northern Sport Centre, Conference and Event Services and Continuing Studies host your next team building, board meeting or employee training session.

Built in a park-like setting with stunning mountain views, the UNBC campus is a showpiece for the use of wood in construction where large atriums and skylights allow for an abundance of natural light.

The Charles Jago Northern Sport Centre

The Charles Jago Northern Sport Centre is the community's four-season, fitness and recreation destination. Home to three gymnasiums, one fieldhouse with two fields, indoor track, meeting rooms and more, our certified Fitness and Recreation staff will create customized team-building games and activities that will energize and inspire your customers and employees. Prime and non-prime rental rates by the day, or hour, are available and you can even book Catering Services to prepare a tasty onsite buffet or BBQ.
